Now, by St. Paul, the census scheme of that ambitious city is by no means certain to redound to its credit. It may even rebound and kick like the kick of many mules at once. Behold the city of Wheeling! She growls not, neither does she make faces; yet she is moving along at a comfortable pace, building up a great industrial territory about her. Real things count in this real world.

Wake Up, Chicago.

Next to the World's Fair the smoke nuisance occupies the attention of the proud city of Chicago. We are able to gather some idea of how great this nuisance is when we read in the Inter Ocean that "there are two remedies, according to expert testimony, either one of which will prayent the city being wrapped in a faliginous pall and give linen a chance of remaining spotless while in transit rom one business block to another."

Not Reversible Combination. Rabington Post.

Governor Campbell, of Ohio, has the Presidential bee in his bonnet. He and summer residence in West Virginis, across the mountains from Deer Park, no a site which is already named Campbell Hill. The Governor remerked to a New York friend the other day that he hoped to get Campbell Hill in shape by 1892. "Well, that would make an excellent combination in 1892," was the ess block to another."

Whatever will accomplish so desirable a result should be esteemed cheap at any price. The one thing that is certain is that a city which has been selected as the site of a great show can't afford to have itself "wrapped in a fuliginous pall" or anything approaching it.

Chicago must stir her stumps, put up the dust and stand from under that pall about which the excellent Inter Ocean

If this whole business had been made as clear to General Grant's family as it is now they never would have consented to the interment in that particular publie park. But isn't the World on the wrong track when it talks about the American people growing ashamed of themselves? The people of New York are only part of the American people, and it is they who ought to proceed quickly to grow ashamed of themselves for they made the promises, including a suitable monument, which deceived the Grant family and the country.

Another Jowish Exedus From Russi Once more the harsh voice of the Autocrat of all the Russias sounds in the ears of the Jews of his empire, and a million of the chosen people must go. The people against whom this edict is directed are for the most part farmers, sober, fairly intelligent, industrious men with industrious families, some of them owners of the land they till, some renters; some have ready money in addition to what they may realize from their lands, some are wretchedly poor.

They are to be driven out of Russia not because they have offended against its harsh laws, not because they have troubled their neighbors, but because they are Jews, and the Czar is a Jew hater. Many of these men and their families, perhaps the most of them, are already looking to America, where they are sure of the practical sympathy of their co-religionists and fair treatment

The well-to-do American Jews have organizations ready, to meet the exiler when they land and to help them into ways of helping themselves. Ot course if any come who give promise of being public burden, they will be treated as other immigrants in like case and sen back on the ships that bring them. But back to where! It is probable that the Jewish organi zations of the world will take hold in time to make an opportionment by countries, so that those who arrive here will have somebody to stand sponsor fo them, no matter how poor they may be. There is an organization in New York which is even now prepared to receive a large number, its intention being to send the farmers to the West, Why shall not some of these peopl find homes in West Virginia? Jews make good American citizens. West Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Virginia has plenty of room for good citizens, and industrious farmers might go further and fare worse than to settle in this State on cheap lands easily made nto good farms.

The country, at one time and another The country, at one time and another, has had three national bankrupt laws, but none of them gave general satisfaction long. It is a difficult matter to satisfy both creditors and debtors in a law of this sort. Probably this never can be done in all respects. There is good reason to believe, however, that the Torrey bill goes farther in this direction than any other measure ever proposed.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entired by closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
